

Women claim UWA Rodeo Showdown title, Men place third

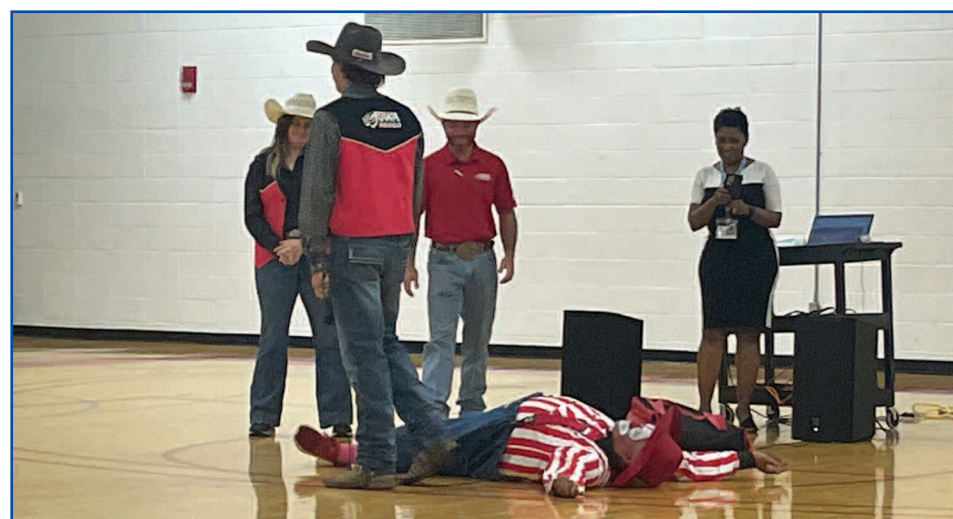

Photos care of uwathletics.com, by Joe Chance

LIVINGSTON, Ala. – The West Alabama Women's Tiger Wranglers extended their fast start in 2022-23 by claiming a second title in as many weeks, running away with the team championship at the Annual UWA Rodeo Showdown. UWA's men finished third at the Hines-Spree Rodeo Complex.

"It was a special rodeo for us. Competing at home once a year can sometimes add some unnecessary pressure, but that didn't seem to be the case this year," head coach Daniel Poole said. "We did a lot of things right and also had a few bobbles. Overall, we rose to the occasion." The West Alabama women compiled 355 points to run away with first place. The Tiger men scored 355 points to place third. Heather McLaughlin dominated goat tying with a first-place finish of 175 points. The next closest competitor was 65 points behind. Gabbie Hayes gave the Tiger Wranglers a fourth-place finish in barrel racing. In addition to McLaughlin's big win, Taycie Matthews was dominating in barrel racing with 180 points to win the event by 55 points. Raven Clagg tied for fourth in breakaway roping with 85 points. Tiger Wrangler Clarke Gordon won tie down roping thanks to a 10.7 in the first round and 10.2 in the short go. Kade Goemmer and JT Ellison finished first and second, respectively, in steer wrestling. Goemmer took home the title with 120 points and Ellison placed second with 100 points. Clarke and Blake Lyons of Pearl River Community College teamed up to finish fourth in team roping. "Our home rodeo was a huge success thanks to so many," Poole said. "I would personally like to thank first and foremost coach Lucas Brown for all that he has done. From his advice to our team and myself, all the way to his back-breaking work. We couldn't do it without him. "Our team would also like to thank our community and school for supporting us like they do," Poole said. "It made for an unforgettable weekend that we will always remember." After taking this weekend off, the Tiger Wranglers hit the road for the Three Rivers Community College Rodeo at the Sikeston Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo Grounds Oct. 13-16.

SCRJ is Looking for West Alabama Ghost Stories

We're looking for your Central West Alabama ghost stories. Know of a ghost story in Sumter, Hale, Tuscaloosa, Marengo, or Pickens County, or had a spooky experience yourself? Email us at scrjmedia@yahoo.com or times@mound.net and we'll put it on www.recordjournal.net and www.moundvilletimes.net for Halloween. Please let us know the town you are from, the town or area your story occurred and if you would like to use your name or be anonymous. PLEASE DO NOT SEND ANYTHING TO FACEBOOK.

opened candy, get directly paid for it and, in doing so, support American troops overseas. According to some 2022 reports, obesity remains an ominous health threat across America as the avoidable condition plagues more than a third (36.2%) of the U.S. population. This scary statistic is that much more frightful as the Halloween holiday looms large. However, this year there's no need to fret as one weight-wise wellness company will pay you cold, hard cash for your candy! This amid the kick-off of HealthyWage's "Cash for Candy" program, which will pay individuals $10 per pound of candy up to $100 per person—and up to $10,000 in collective payouts! Through the initiative, any individual can donate their excess, unwanted and unopened candy to Operation Shoebox on or before Nov. 22, get directly paid for it and, in doing so, support American troops overseas! Participants need not be a HealthyWage challenge participant as anyone, anywhere in the U.S. can donate candy and cash in. Full submission details and instructions can be found online at <https://www.healthYWage.com/pages/cash-for-candy-2022>.
